

Address Delivered by Edward Atkinson: At the Opening of the Second Annual Fair of the New England Manufacturers and Mechanics Institute, in Boston, Wednesday, September 6, 1882 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Edward Atkinson

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Address Delivered by Edward Atkinson: At the Opening of the Second Annual Fair of the New England Manufacturers and Mechanics Institute, in Boston, Wednesday, September 6, 1882 Even the whole waste and cost of war must come from each year s product during the war itself, except such munitions as may be borrowed from other countries. Debt incurred for war merely defers payment. The first question of wages is a question of quantity, how much is there produced? The second question is the question of price, what is the product worth? The third question, the question of distribution, - what share of the product at its price does the workman receive? The wages fund is not the quantity of things previously produced, but it is substantially the quantity produced at the time or in the year in which the work is done. Fifty cents a day is very surely the average measure of the subsistence, savings, and taxes of each person. One dollar a day for each adult, two dollars a day for each family group of two adults and two...

READ ONLINE
[9.02 MB]

Reviews

Completely one of the best publication I actually have ever study. I really could comprehended almost everything out of this written e publication. Your daily life span will likely be change as soon as you total reading this publication.

-- Prof. Adolph Wisoky

The publication is great and fantastic. It can be filled with knowledge and wisdom You wont truly feel monotony at at any moment of your time (that's what catalogues are for about if you ask me).

-- Dr. Marcos Grimes III