Excerpt from Addresses Delivered Before the Lawyers Club, New York, on the Subject of the Centennial of the Rush-Bagot Agreement of 1817, Saturday, March 17th, 1917 Honored guests from Canada, in order that you may all know where we stand here in New York and that we are all waking up to the conditions that confront us, I will read to you a declaration that is being signed to-day by the members of this Club and by thousands and thousands of our fellow citizens. It is addressed to the President of the United States. As an American, faithful to American ideals of justice, liberty and humanity, and confident that the Government has exerted its most earnest efforts to keep us at peace with the world, I hereby declare my absolute and unconditional loyalty to the Government of the United States and pledge my support to you in protecting American rights against unlawful violence upon land and sea, in guarding the nation against hostile attacks and in upholding international right. Nearly a million of the citizens of the United States have already signed this petition and I am informed by his Honor the Mayor that within a week it will be signed by two per cent of our total population.
